SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND COMPLIANCE POLICY

As Ayfleks Packaging, our Social Compliance Policy sets out the standards we have established in partnership with all our business partners, grounded in our core principles and values. Our objective is to ensure that this Social Compliance Policy becomes an integral part of our organisational culture. To this end, social compliance standards have been established and are being implemented. These standards reflect our commitment to upholding all statutory rights arising from applicable laws for our employees, complying with occupational health and safety regulations, respecting the environment, and fostering an open and honest communication culture in which employees are treated with respect and dignity.

This Social Compliance Policy is communicated to all employees through training programmes and communication channels (notice boards, website, email/messaging groups, etc.), and our suppliers are informed and evaluated against these criteria. Under this policy, no sanctions or punitive measures shall be applied against employees who raise concerns, anxieties, or complaints. Suggestion, request, and complaint boxes are provided for this purpose, enabling employees to freely express their views, requests, and suggestions in writing. All submissions are reviewed by senior management, and where improvement is required, the necessary corrective actions are taken.

The Social Compliance Policy covers the following components:

- Forced Labour (Voluntary Employment)
- Child Labour (Underage Workers)
- Discrimination (Equal Opportunity)
- Ethical Business Conduct
- Working Hours and Remuneration (Wages / Salaries)
- Health and Safety
- Community and Stakeholder Engagement
- Foreign National Employees
- Rest Days and Holidays
- Recruitment and Employment
- Employment Contract (Employer Agreement)
- Workplace and Employee Discipline
- Environmental Protection
- Trade Unions and Collective Bargaining
- Harsh or Inhumane Treatment

Forced Labour (Voluntary Employment)

Our company does not subject any employee to compulsory labour. Employment within our organisation is based entirely on a voluntary basis. In the event that an employee wishes to leave, the company may not prevent or delay this except for legitimate security reasons. All personal data pertaining to our employees is protected and held confidential in accordance with applicable law.

Child Labour (Underage Workers)

Child labour is not tolerated under any circumstances within our organisation. With the exception of mandatory circumstances such as internships and apprenticeships, the minimum age stipulated by national and international law is strictly observed.

Discrimination (Equal Opportunity)

Our company values all employees and the contributions they make. We have a deep-rooted commitment to opposing discrimination and ensuring equal opportunity. As management, we are determined to maintain an organisation free from discrimination or physical and verbal harassment on the grounds of race, gender, colour, nationality, social origin, religion, age, disability, political opinion, or any other status protected by applicable law. Personnel selection is carried out on the basis of minimum qualifications such as the relevant vacancy requirements, training, interests, skills, and professional experience.

Ethical Business Conduct

Our company has zero tolerance for corruption, fraud, embezzlement, or bribery in any form.

Working Hours and Remuneration (Wages / Salaries)

Our company provides its employees with competitive remuneration in line with sectoral and local labour market standards. All practices relating to wages, working hours, overtime, and supplementary payments are carried out in full compliance with applicable legislation and employment contracts. We offer employees opportunities to develop their skills and capabilities, and these efforts are supported by providing advancement opportunities wherever possible.

Health and Safety

Our company ensures that a safe and healthy working environment is established and maintained. We aim to create a sustainable work environment in which our employees can work safely, healthily, and productively, minimising their exposure to accidents, injuries, and any factors that may threaten their health. We are committed to ensuring a workplace free from violence, harassment, threats, abuse, and distressing conditions. All occupational health and safety regulations as prescribed by applicable legislation are implemented within our organisation.

Community and Stakeholder Engagement

Our company is committed to engaging with its stakeholders in good faith — listening to their views, learning from them, and taking them into account. In this context, employee representatives are appointed in accordance with applicable legislation, creating a platform through which employees can discuss their concerns with their representatives and submit written feedback via suggestion boxes.

Foreign National Employees

Employment contracts for foreign national employees working or to be employed within our organisation in accordance with applicable law are prepared in a language they can understand. All personnel procedures from the date of hire to termination are carried out in full compliance with current legislation. Employees may not under any circumstances be engaged through debt bondage. The legal employment rights of foreign workers are protected by our organisation. Our company does not employ undocumented workers.

Rest Days and Holidays

Our employees are not deprived of their rest and holiday entitlements within the framework of their statutory rights.

Recruitment and Employment

Open positions identified by company management are filled through a lawful and structured process governed by defined rules — including principles of equal opportunity, leave entitlements, remuneration, holiday rights, and employment contracts.

Employment Contract (Employer Agreement)

An Open-Ended Employment Contract, tailored to the workplace and applicable law and setting out the terms offered to the prospective employee, is prepared between our organisation and the individual to be employed. Upon acceptance of the position, the employee is required to sign both the Open-Ended Employment Contract and the Overtime Work Consent Form. A copy of the employment contract is provided to the employee upon signature, and all rules and requirements of our organisation and the role are communicated through an orientation training programme.

Workplace and Employee Discipline

Disciplinary rules determined by the disciplinary committee are applied to maintain a structured and orderly working environment. The company may not apply wage deductions as a disciplinary measure under any circumstances. All employees conduct their work in accordance with the applicable working rules and instructions.

Environmental Protection

Our organisation manages the environmental impacts arising from its activities with a strong sense of responsibility. We identify and implement all improvement and development initiatives aimed at eliminating or minimising environmental impacts and making the most efficient use of natural resources across all our operations.

Trade Unions and Collective Bargaining

All employees, without distinction, have the right to join or establish a trade union of their choosing and to engage in collective bargaining. Our organisation takes an open-minded approach to the activities and organisational events of employee trade unions. No discrimination is made against employee representatives, and access to the workplace is permitted to enable them to fulfil their representative functions and duties. Where the right to trade unions and collective bargaining is restricted by law, our organisation facilitates and does not obstruct the development of parallel mechanisms for independent and free trade union representation and collective bargaining.

Harsh or Inhumane Treatment

The use of physical violence or corporal punishment, threats of physical violence, sexual abuse or other harassing behaviour, verbal abuse, or any form of intimidation or coercion are strictly prohibited.

All principles set out in this policy document are translated into practice through the necessary arrangements, and the level of implementation is monitored by the relevant units. Our organisation regards the success demonstrated in its social responsibility practices as a key criterion in the assessment of company performance. This policy document has been prepared to share, with all our employees, all our stakeholders, and all our business partners, a clear and unequivocal commitment by AYFLEKS PACKAGING to fulfil every responsibility that falls upon it in working towards a better world and a better future.
